THE KALEIDOSCOPE OF KNOWLEDGE...
LIKE BITS OF COLORED GLASS
EXPERIENCES AND IMPRESSIONS
FALL INTO PLACE

KNOWLEDGE — everything that forms a complete being. As we experienced the high school years of growing, questioning, and learning at Central, we built the foundations of our lives. Like the bits of colored glass in a kaleidoscope, each one bright in itself yet contributing to the design, so did each moment, each thought, and each action fall into place to become part of a whole — a mature, individual, and thinking personality.

Our taste in the fine arts grew as we were exposed to numerous forms of art, music, drama, and literature with the help of Central's Barnstormers, Glee Club, band, orchestra, and newspaper. We found that these activities not only enriched our school life, but also provoked an eagerness for creativity in us.

Our awareness of people grew as we chose more and more friends from the sea of faces that filled the halls. Whether just conversing under the clock, or frugging out at Stepan Center, we experienced the benefits of friendship and the enjoyment of being with others.

Those partaking in competitive sports grew in physical ability and strength as well as in spirit. Spectators at football and basketball games, track meets, and other events witnessed the determination to improve and to achieve that has been characteristic of Central's men.

In the complex and changing atmosphere of school life, our minds absorbed practical knowledge, and our powers of thinking and reasoning grew with the things we encountered. We were given the tools of learning in the classroom, and with hard work we applied these tools, striving to make them functioning parts of our mental facilities.

Different feelings merged to create a readiness and willingness to learn:

wondering uncertainty

discovery frustration

initiative disbelief experimentation

desire for self-improvement

AND SO WE GREW AND LEARNED
IN MANY WAYS...

INTELLECTUALLY

CLASSES AND FACULTY

Mr. Merlin Richard, our assistant principal, spends much of his time every day taking care of the accounting duties about the school. He values highly the ambitions, experiences, and the ability of each student who is enrolled in Central High School. He wants all of the students to feel that they can come to him for a helping hand or any advice that they might need. This desire to be a friend of all of the students is a part of the design making up the "kaleidoscope of knowledge."

Mr. Daniels, the (administration assistant,) has the task of helping to plan the futures of his seventh and eighth grade students. His many years of experience on Central's staff helps him to know how to better meet the needs of all of the students he comes in contact with. Even though the students he has the greatest contact with are junior high students, he realizes the importance of getting them ready for the transition from junior high to senior high. This preliminary guidance is another part of the complicated design of real learning.

The students at Central extend a hearty welcome to the new head counselor, Mr. Clyde Morningstar. We want him to feel a part of the spirit of Central as he carries out his new duties. He helps seniors find the colleges that suit them best, informs the students of tests of interest to those who are college bound and to those who are looking for the vocation best suited to their abilities, and he helps each student with the decisions that will shape his future. Guidance and counseling according to the aptitudes and abilities of a student are other important parts of the main design.

Mr. Lawrence McKinney, our principal, always reminds his students that he has faith in each one of them. He wants the student to become interested in the things that will make him a better person in this world of constant change. A great school is dependent on a great leader. Mr. McKinney is backing Central and helping his students make it the best school. He can always be found cheering the team and the students on to victory in every way.

As the pieces of glass in a kaleidoscope fall into place to make a design, the faculty, the counselors, and the students become a part of the administration. The success of the school is dependent upon the interest of each person who is a part of the school. It is very important to have good communications between the students and the faculty. This goal is obtained only when all of the people involved are willing to cooperate to the fullest degree.

Pictured here are: Mrs. Doris Paffenbach, junior high office; Mrs. Helen Baer, main office; Mrs. Kay Hollis, guidance clerk; Mrs. Dorothy Beghtel, bookstore; Mrs. Barbara Moon, guidance clerk; and Mrs. Lucille York, attendance clerk.

Checking up on the records is only one of the duties of our junior counselor, Mrs. Adelaide Platt.

Mrs. Helen Peterson, our underclass counselor, puts on her best smile to greet an inquiring student.

Caught in the midst of performing one of her usual tasks is our school nurse, Mrs. Margaret Foulks.

Central's dietician, Mrs. Jeanne Kodba, is busy preparing food for our delicious lunches.

Our librarians, Mrs. Glenys Helms, Mrs. Mary Teah, and Mrs. Margaret Wegner, in charge of an untold amount of books, pause for a moment of rest.

Mr. Fred Govern
German

Among many courses offered at Central, the study of a foreign language is one of the most interesting and rewarding. For many students this is either a prerequisite for college or an elective to broaden their backgrounds and knowledge.

Besides having well qualified language teachers to direct the students, Central is equipped with a modern language lab. In lab, students are able to listen individually to tapes with exercises, conversations, and songs. This helps them to improve their vocabularies, accents, and speaking abilities. The lab also enables the teacher to follow the individual progress of the students.

Miss Marguerite DeGroote
English

Because our ability to express ourselves determines the degree of our success in social, academic, and business life, our most valuable classes this year were the English classes. As basics of grammar were reviewed and vocabularies strengthened, students learned to use these tools to better their writing and speaking abilities. Students opened classics written by Shakespeare, Dickens, and others for the first time and delved into them as a class, exploring each character, idea, and theme the author injected. For individual book reports, students turned to other authors, both traditional and modern, and learned to recognize the author's views on life as well as his approach to effective literature. For a change in pace, poetry was analyzed and the students were able to use this art as a form of expression. As the year drew to a close, each student applied all the characteristics of good composition he had observed to his own writings.

NO GOVERNMENT DEMANDS SO MUCH FROM THE CITIZEN AS DEMOCRACY AND NONE GIVES BACK SO MUCH

James Bryce

History classes were an essential part of the curriculum of many students this year. To the freshmen the required course of community civics meant a look into the machinery of our modern democracy, an awakening to world situations and organizations, and a preparation for each to take his place in society as a responsible citizen.

With so many of today's thoughts focused on the war in Viet Nam, the study of world history seemed very appropriate. Many students took advantage of the course to learn about international relations of the past and the pattern of strife, rivalry, famine, and war that slowly entangled many of the griefs and victories that led to the molding of our "one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." The government classes completed the list of history courses offered this year and provided an opportunity for students to finish their history studies with an understanding of the systems and ideals which have kept our nation so strong.

Mr. Earl Kuhny, Social Studies department head, is another example of the devoted and conscientious teachers at Central High School.

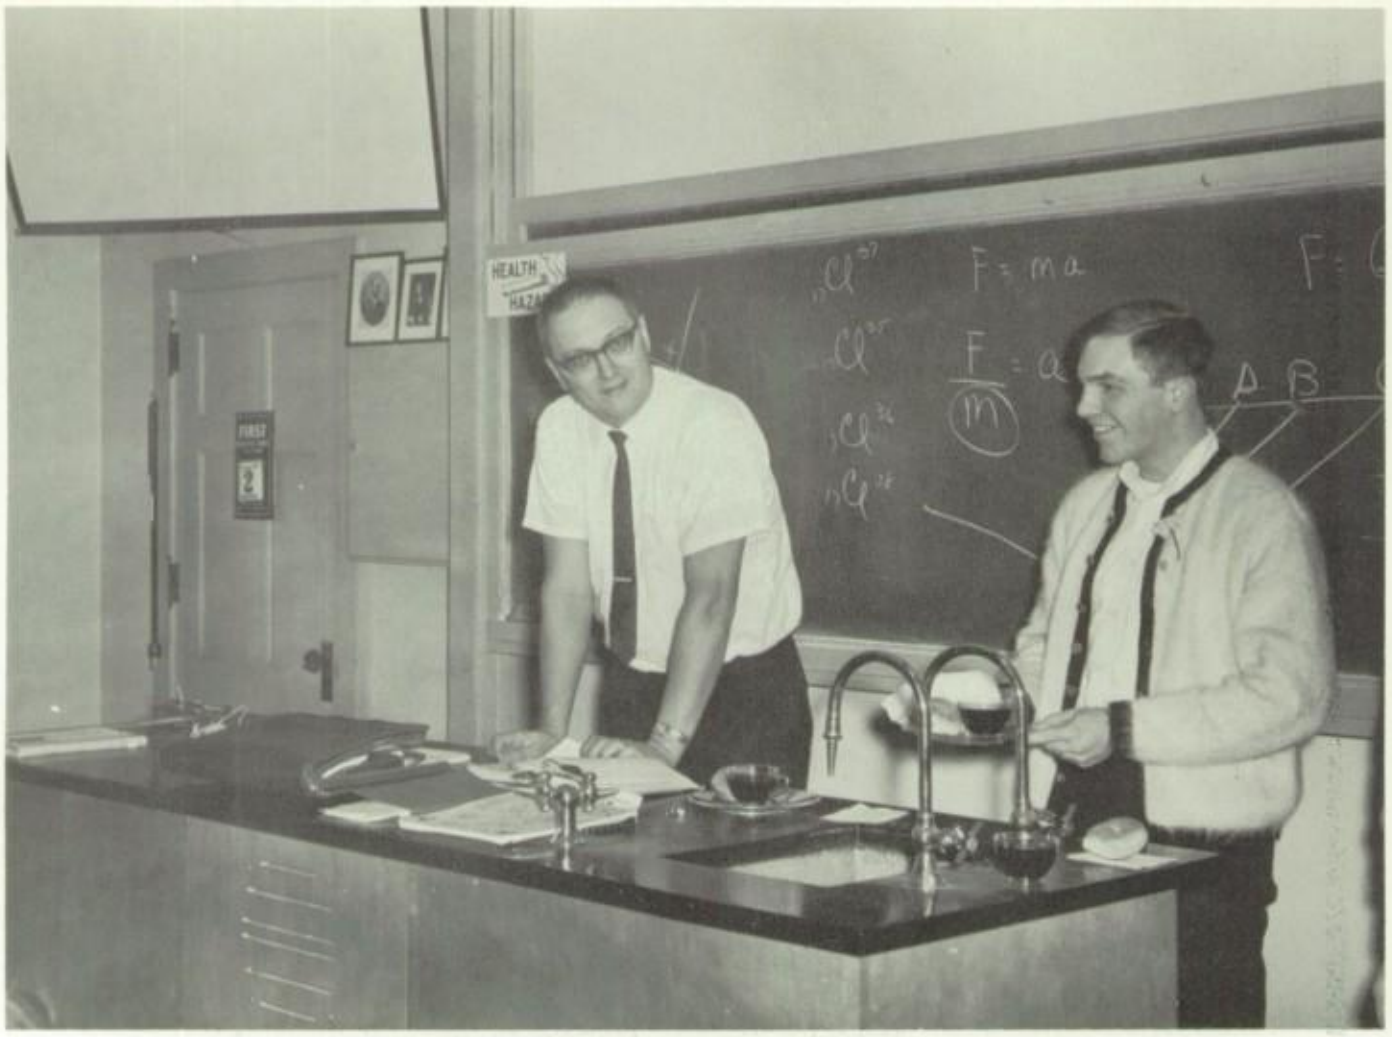
MR. LESLIE SCHULTZ

During the first semester of this school year, Central High School lost one of its most conscientious teachers — Mr. Leslie Schultz. Mr. Schultz began his teaching career in 1927 in the junior high school as a social studies teacher. Then, in the middle 1930's he moved to the senior high school.

Although his students considered him somewhat strict with them, they were aware that he cared enough to see that they learned the subject matter they would need for the future. His own diligence resulted in learning being made easier for his students, although he deplored lazy thinking and careless work.

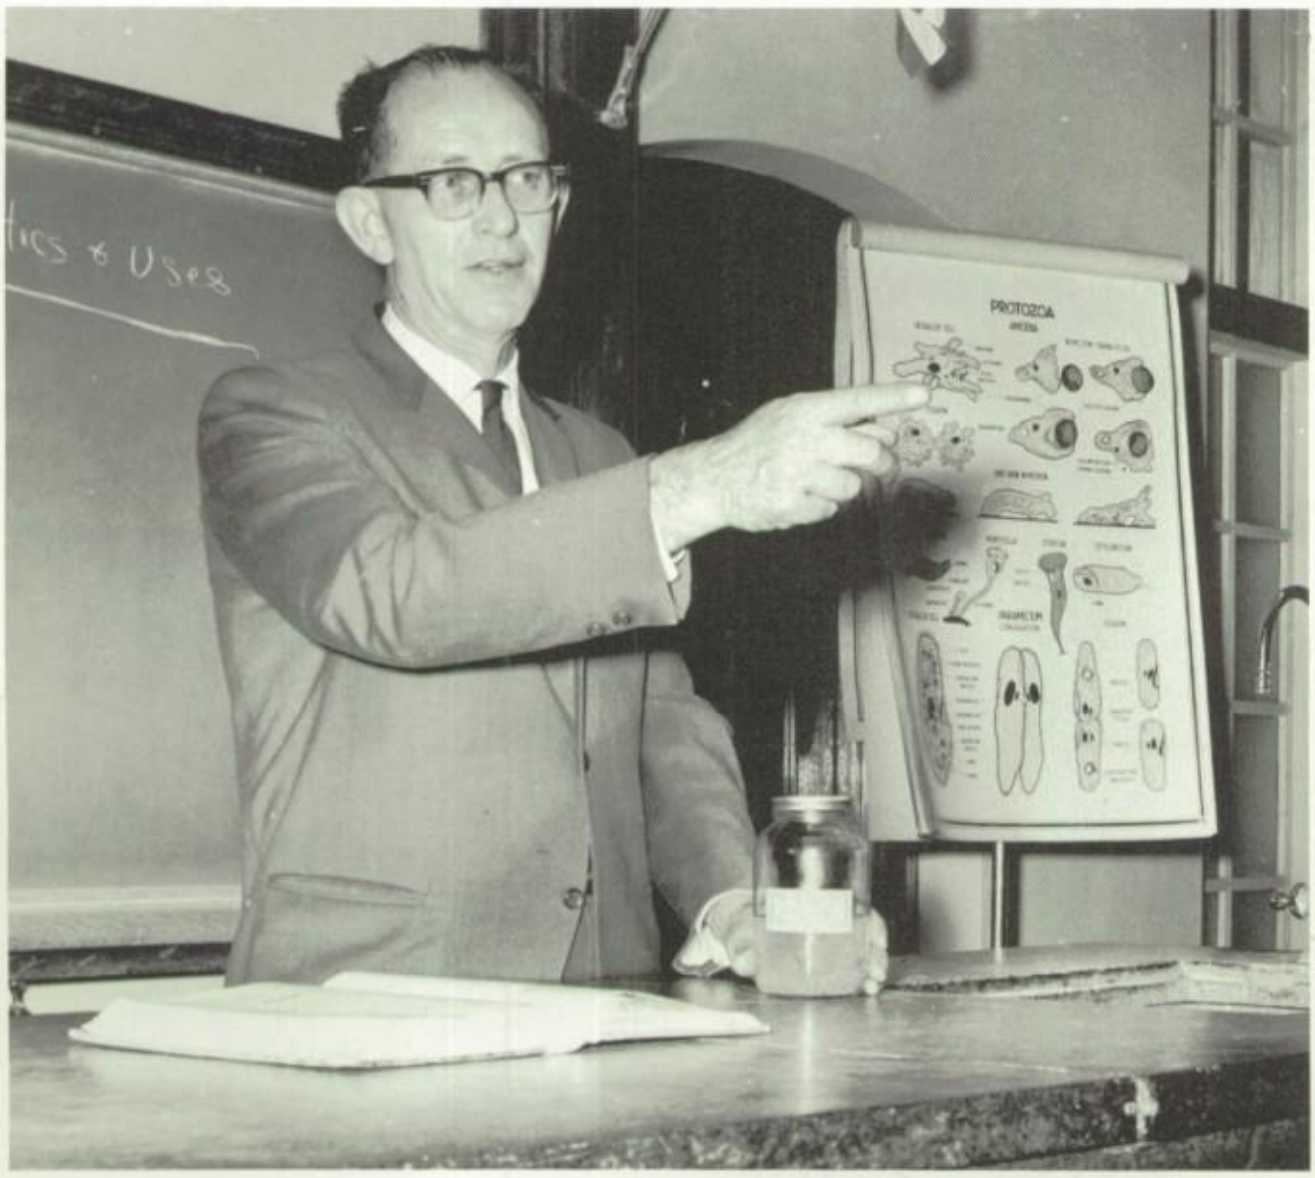
But there was another phase of Mr. Schultz's life that many students knew little about. Despite the long hours he was forced to spend working indoors, he was really an enthusiastic outdoor man. He spent his summers in the woods of Northern Michigan near Eagle River, and he actually purchased a camp in Canada about a hundred miles north of Lake Superior. This camp, which was originally the Hudson Bay Trading Post, he transformed into a fishing camp for others.

But whether he was hunting in the North or working in the classroom, his enthusiasm was always obvious. He was very much at home in the outdoors, where death came to him while he was hunting. Mr. Schultz will be remembered, not only by his fellow teachers, but also by those thousands of Central students who appreciated what he did for them during his many years of conscientious teaching.



Mr. Byron Carrier, Physics, seems to be very pleased as he wreaks benefits from National Honor Society member, Fred Steiner. "He'll get an A!" says Mr. Carrier.

SCIENCE . . . . . ROAD TO



The minute and mysterious world of the protozoa is expertly explained here by Mr. Devon Phelps, Biology.

At Central, a variety of science courses are offered. For students wishing only to fulfill their science credits, physical science is offered. Biology I and II are offered to students planning to go to college or those interested in a more specialized science. Also offered for the advanced student are chemistry and physics. Chemistry is the study of the composition of matter and the changes that take place. Physics is the science dealing with energy and the transformation of energy. Aiding the student in the understanding of both chemistry and physics through experimentation and observation are the labs.

Mr. William Gilkey, a Health teacher among other activities, quickly reviews a short quiz.

"MATH POSSESSES NOT ONLY

Mr. John McNarney leads freshmen into the exciting world of mathematics.

It seems that to Mr. William Schlundt happiness is doing a trig problem.

Mr. Kindy shows his class the beautiful symmetry that can be found in geometry.

TRUTH BUT SUPREME BEAUTY"

Grady Ross ponders over a difficult problem assigned to him by Mr. Harris.

As freshmen we became acquainted with square roots, finding an unknown in an equation, and the quadratic formula. We tried to apply the axioms that we had learned in the solving of story problems.

Even though we learned algebra, we were ignorant of geometry. This year of geometry brought the understanding of objects from everyday experiences. We learned the area of a cube, the volume of a cone, and the area of the earth on which we live. Our brains began to work as we learned postulates, theorems, and proofs.

Trigonometry brought the learning of relationships in a right triangle. Solid geometry and college algebra broadened our knowledge of fundamental things that we had learned earlier. In calculus and analytic geometry class we were introduced to higher mathematics. We wondered if one of our classmates would discover a way to solve the problem of division by zero.

For those students preparing to enter the precise and demanding business world, no classes were more practical than the many business courses that were offered. Our soon-to-be executives and secretaries were introduced to methods of efficient bookkeeping, insurance tabulating, and business correspondence in a prerequisite general business course which proved to be very interesting as well as pertinent.

Mrs. Maxine Gill is caught unaware as she passes out typing manuals.

BY LEARNING SKILLS TODAY

"You'll never sit on anyone's lap if you type like that," says Mr. John Burger to Ron Bernhard.

Mr. James Ford helps Rebecca Kovacs with her typing lesson.

With a little patience, and much practice, fingers learned to master typewriter keys, and a steady "click-click-click" from Room 210 told of the progress being made by those students in typing class. Many put their typing to further use in the office training course.

Shorthand, with its language of curves, lines, and dots was another skill that required precision and speed to be efficient.

Mr. Wilmer Armstrong is seen here as he instructs his class in business procedures.

WE PREPARE FOR TOMORROW

Mr. James Cole teaches his class the basics business relations.

Mrs. Eurilla Wills, Home Economics, is quite enthused about teaching a male student, Steven Varro, the techniques of good cooking.

Miss Patricia Barcza skillfully instructs John Steinhoffer, Mary Dillon, and Brenda Hicks in some useful cooking methods.

Courses offered in foods, clothing, and family living prepared girls for their future duties as housewives. Every dish successfully prepared in the labs brought enjoyment to the girls, as well as self-satisfaction. At the end of the year's work the students had achieved an awareness of practical meal planning and original cookery. Others were learning to plan, create, and coordinate wardrobes as they moved swiftly through the fundamentals of dressmaking and individual projects. Family living taught child care, budget planning, and home management.

PREPARATION FOR FUTURE

Miss Lorretta Hubertz demonstrates some finishing touches on a dress for Diane Jones, Sherry Wood, Sherry Benson, Mary Allen, Pat Walton and Carol Kruszewski.

Miss Margot Fritz displays the wonderful world of color and design to Terry Stuart.

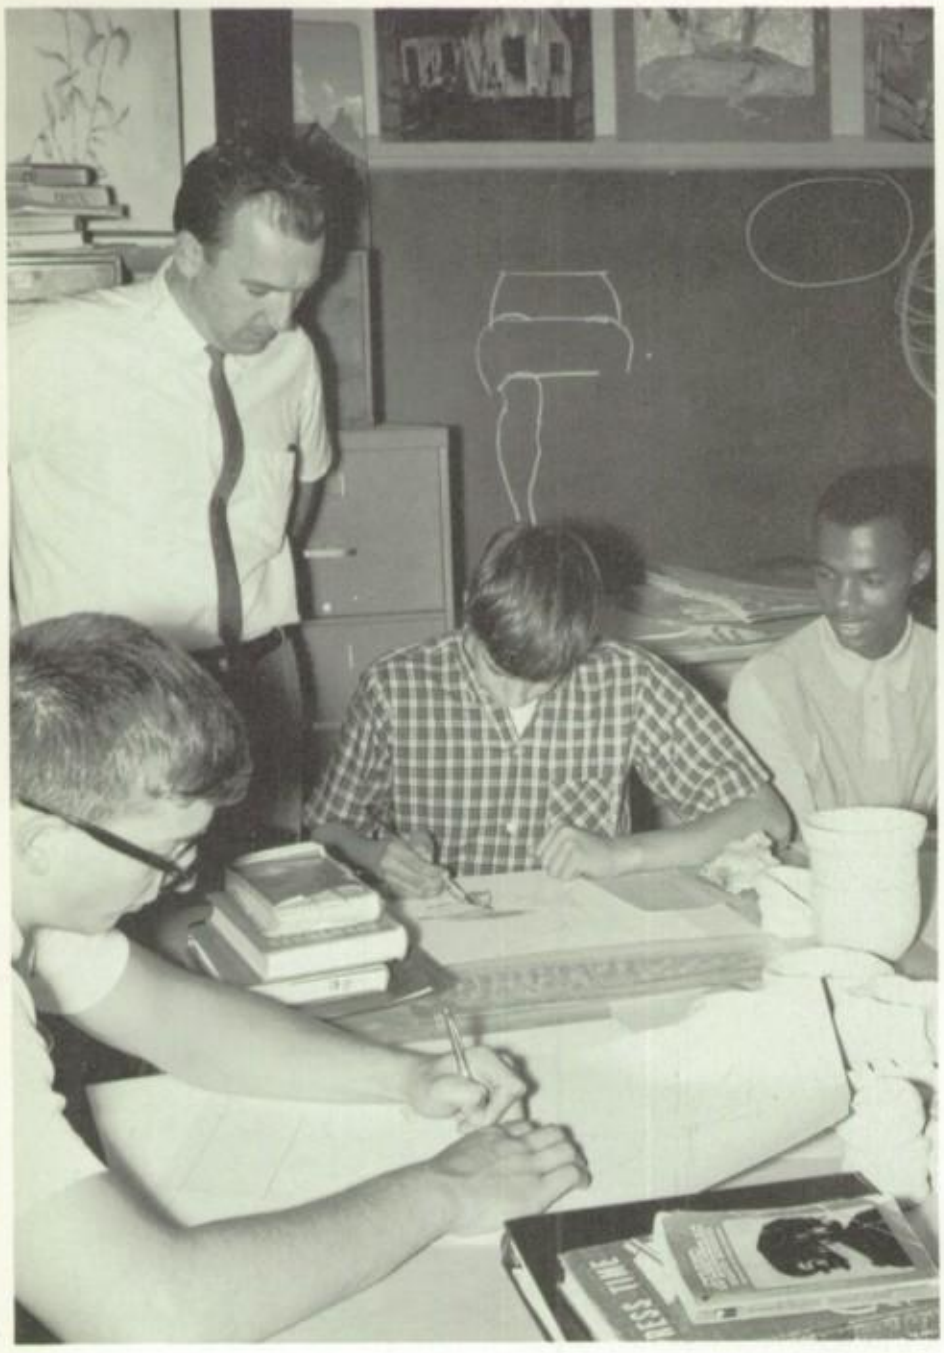
Mr. William Baldwin, Mr. Robert T. Berry, and Mr. Raymond Gangloff often discuss their daily shop projects together.

Mr. Robert Swintz assists Bruno Lacopo, Chris Long, and Mike Kozlowski with a few details on some shop projects.

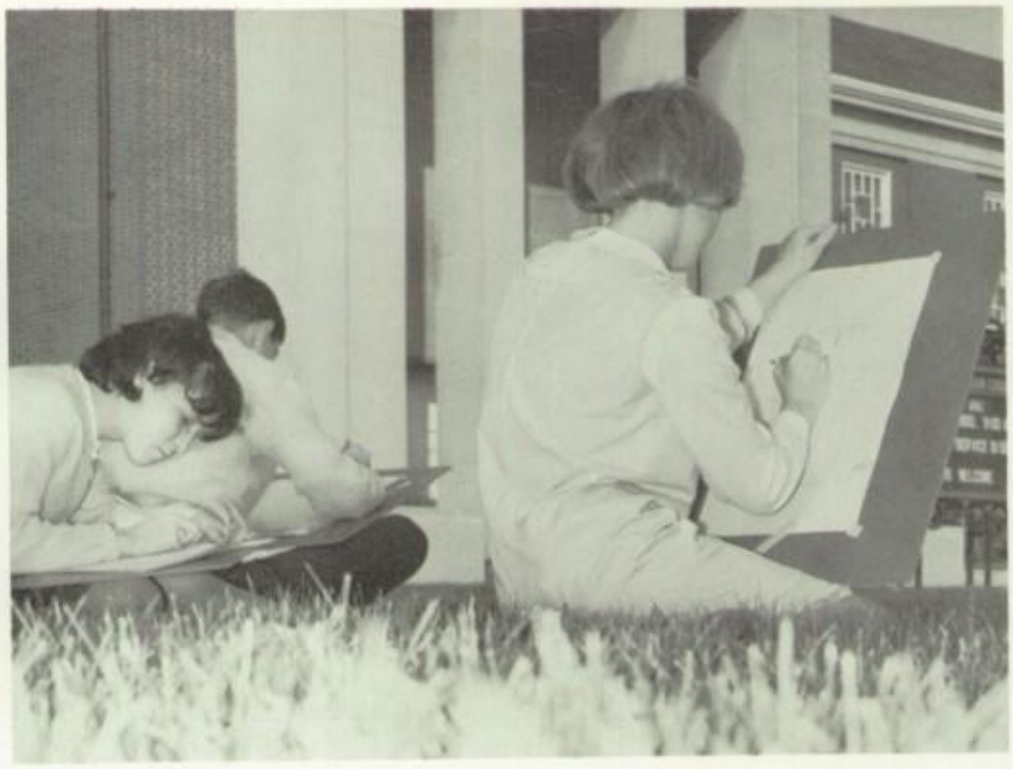
Shop classes help each boy to learn a vocational trade that will be useful in the years ahead. It is good to learn about woodworking, printing, auto mechanics, mechanical drawing, and electricity. This helps a student to get good training as he learns more about becoming an engineer, architect, or an auto mechanic. The course in woodworking is very helpful to those boys who are interested in manual crafts.

THROUGH EXPERIENCE

Mr. Emil Mamula explains some of the complex parts of a piece of machinery to Gary Gravit and Mike and Jerry Lupa.



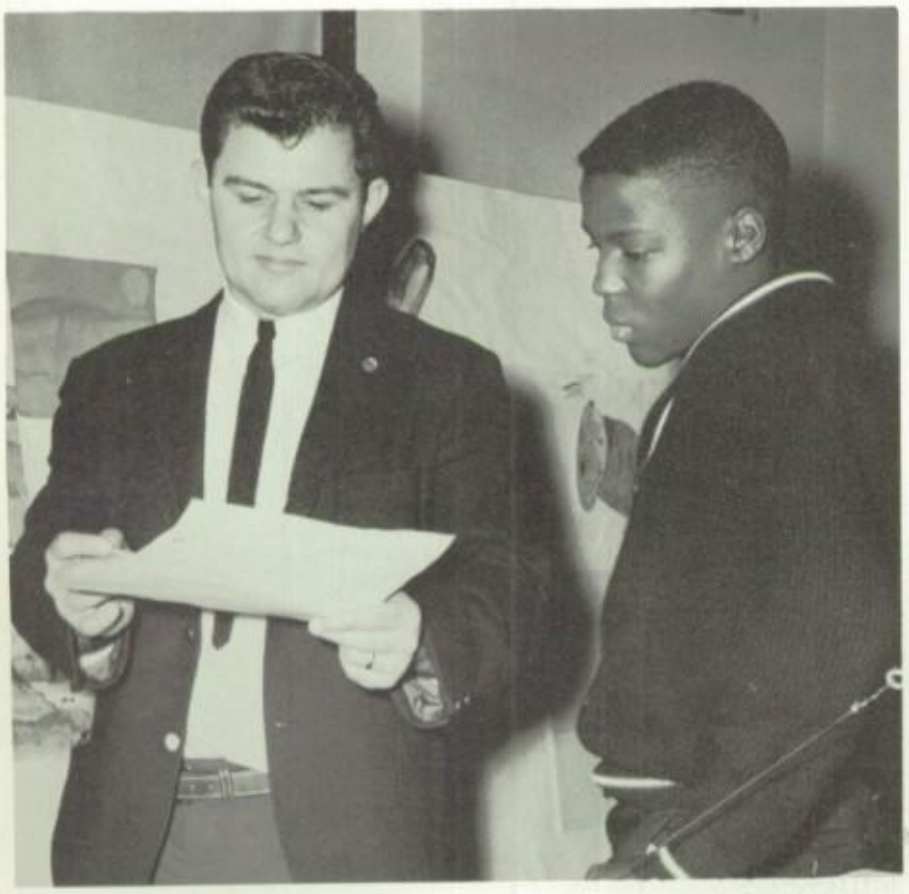
A thoughtful teacher like Mr. Garner Marvin is always ready to observe and help his aspiring art students.



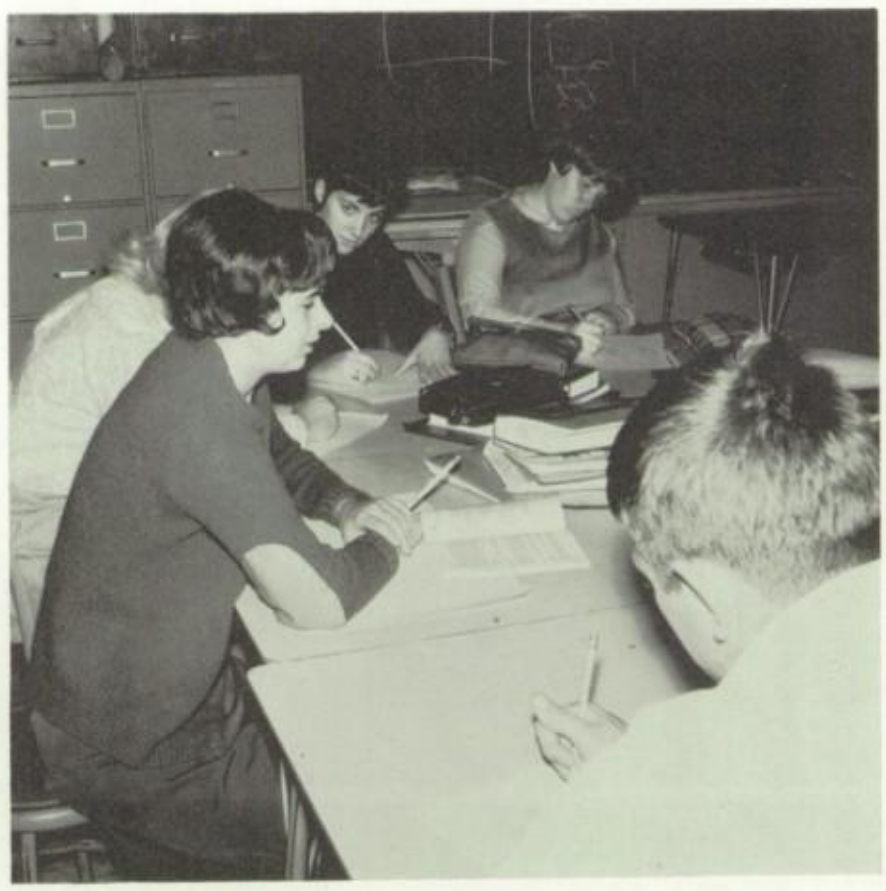
These students are engrossed by their work as they sketch the church across the street from Central.

Studying the techniques that have made the works of recognized artists priceless, and analyzing those that have driven not-so-good artists into obscurity, this year's art students learned how to channel their own talents and feelings into works of art. They gained satisfaction in knowing that their sensitivity to beauty and ability to create improved with each combination of shape, texture, color and line that they tried, and with each painting, drawing, sculpture or craft work they completed.

WE EXPLORE



Mr. George Purlee is a new and welcomed member of the art staff this year, and we are glad to have him with us.



These students are constantly bettering their art skills.

Mr. Daniel Miller, our Glee Club instructor, is always busy and smiling as he goes about his daily work.

A new and well liked person in the Central Band room is Mr. Wendall Schmoe.

THE WORLD OF ART AND MUSIC

Scales, tones, note values, time signatures, volumes, breath controls, pronunciations, expressions — each of these ideas became familiar to music appreciation students as they sat in band, orchestra, chorus class or glee club trying to improve their musical skills. Time devoted to understanding the complex structure of a piece of music or the composers' ideas proved to be well-spent when an enjoyable performance of each piece was finally given to an appreciative audience of fellow students.

Mr. Zeal Fisher directs one of his many orchestra classes, as he teaches his students works of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, and Kabalevsky.

WE BUILD STRONG BODIES

Many students took advantage of Central's vigorous physical fitness program to better their athletic abilities or just to keep in shape. Activities varied from team sports such as basketball or individual gymnastics such as tumbling or rope climbing. Many gym classes provided fun and relaxation, in instruction on the trampoline or in playing ping-pong. Other days meant a real work-out. This was often the case when time came for the semi-annual physical fitness tests. In addition to team sports Miss Kruckel and Miss Matthews taught the girls much about square dancing, stunts on the parallel bars, and exercising. The boys' classes concentrated on such strenuous activities as weight lifting and wrestling. Meanwhile, still others developed new skills in the swimming classes.

Miss Betty Mathews, our physical education instructor, explains some of the basic rules in volleyball.

Miss Marie Kruckel, physical education instructor, contemplates the day's activities of her classes.

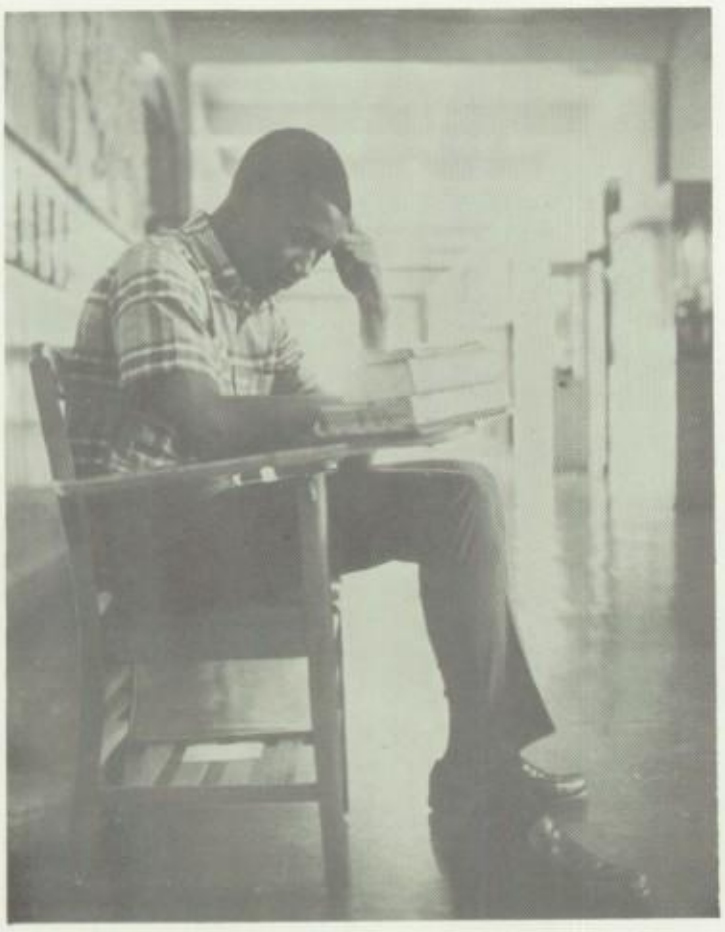
Mr. James Powers, basketball coach; Mr. Ross Stevenson, athletic director; and Mr. Robert Saltz, swim coach, discuss the athletic program for next year.

To each student, study hall has had a different significance this year. For some, it was a time of leisurely study; for others a time of frantic cramming for a test the following hour. Some welcomed the free hour; some died of boredom; others depended on using it to finish that assignment which they just could not bring themselves to do the night before. Time was wasted, budgeted, and raced against, depending on how much homework one had. To most, study hall meant fewer books to take home, and time was spent accordingly. With each bell, students of all types filed in and began to work, each concentrating in his own particular way on different assignments in different subjects.

WE LEARN

BY STUDYING

Mrs. Wills is always busy co-ordinating the girl's study hall. She has over five hundred girls under her supervision daily.



Wade Fuller has the job of guarding the hall during his study hall but he still finds time to review his work.

Mr. Lou Newbold is in charge of the complex boys' study hall in addition to his other duties at Central.

BEARS WIN 3 OF 9 ON GRIDIRON

Often performing without the services of some key players, Central's football Bears compiled a 1965 record of 3 wins and 6 losses. In doing so, Central became the first team to score against the conference champion Riley Wildcats, and one of only two teams which scored twice against them during the entire season.

The opening game against Clay was marred by 9 fumbles, 5 of which were lost by Central. When the dust cleared, however, the Bears were victorious, winning by a score of 6 to O. The 6 points were the result of a 50 yard pass run play from quarterback Dennis Grzegorek to Dick Smith.

In their first NIHSC contest our Bears bowed to Michigan City by a 13 to 12 count. Central decisively outpassed and outrushed the Red Devils but somehow ended up on the short end of the score. Lineman Norm Martin picked up a blocked punt and dashed in for a touchdown in this game.

The next tilt with Riley was undoubtedly the best team effort by the Bears all year. Bruce Erhardt scored on a 1 yard plunge and Karl Simon on a nifty 51 yard run as, for the second week in a row, the Bears were on top of the statistics but on the bottom of the score. Simon was easily the outstanding running star with 122 yards gained.

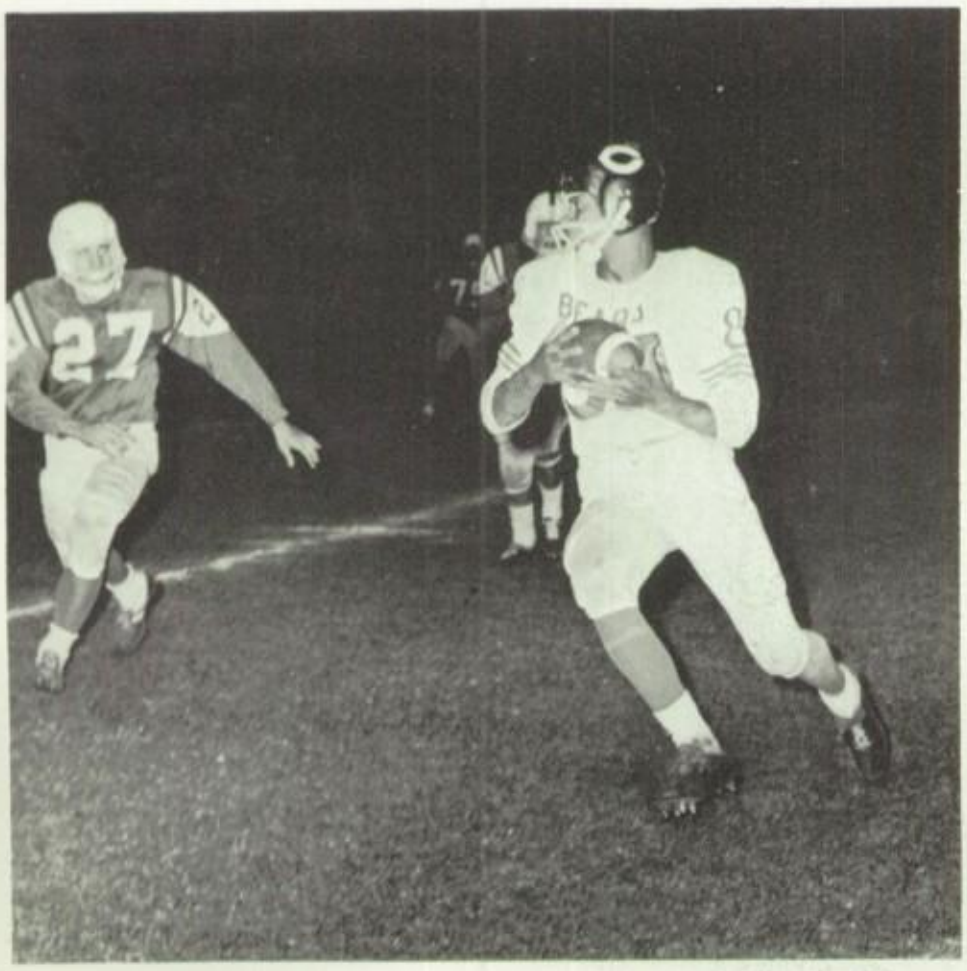
With several Elkhart players in hot pursuit, quarterback Dennis Grezegorek sweeps around right end.

INJURIES PLAGUE BRUINS



After catching a Grzegorek pass, end Matt Kingsberry breaks down the sideline.

The traditional Central-Adams homecoming game was played without regulars Ray Nick, Greg Matafin, Larry Szczechowski, and Karl Simon. In this annual clash Bruce Erhardt scored on a two yard run but Adams mustered two touchdowns to defeat the Bears 12 to 7.

Hungry for victory, our gridders traveled to Lafayette on a windy, rainy night and defeated them by a score of 20 to 18. Dick Smith and Don Kyle electrified the crowd with their long runs. Smith scampered 69 yards from scrimmage to score and also returned a kickoff 75 yards for a touchdown. Kyle raced 85 yards on a kickoff return for the Bears final tally. Nick, Simon, and Matafin were again on the sidelines with injuries.

The following week, city rival Washington downed the Bears 21-12. This typical hard-hitting Bruin-Panther game was highlighted by a 72 yard punt return by Dick "Scooter" Smith and a 56 yard pass-run play from Grzegorek to end Matt Kingsbury, both seniors.

Mud, rain, wind, and near freezing weather made for abnormal conditions during a hard fought Central-Mishawaka contest. The officials revised the rules a bit to keep away from the quagmire in the grassless School Field mid section as most of the action took place along the sidelines. Dick Smith's one yard run was the only touchdown that the Bears could push across as the Maroons managed to tally twice and win by a 12 to 6 score.

Battle-scarred Rick Niezgodski contemplates the game from the sidelines.

Dick Smith grimaces with pain as he is helped off the playing field.

BOW TO 3 CITY RIVALS

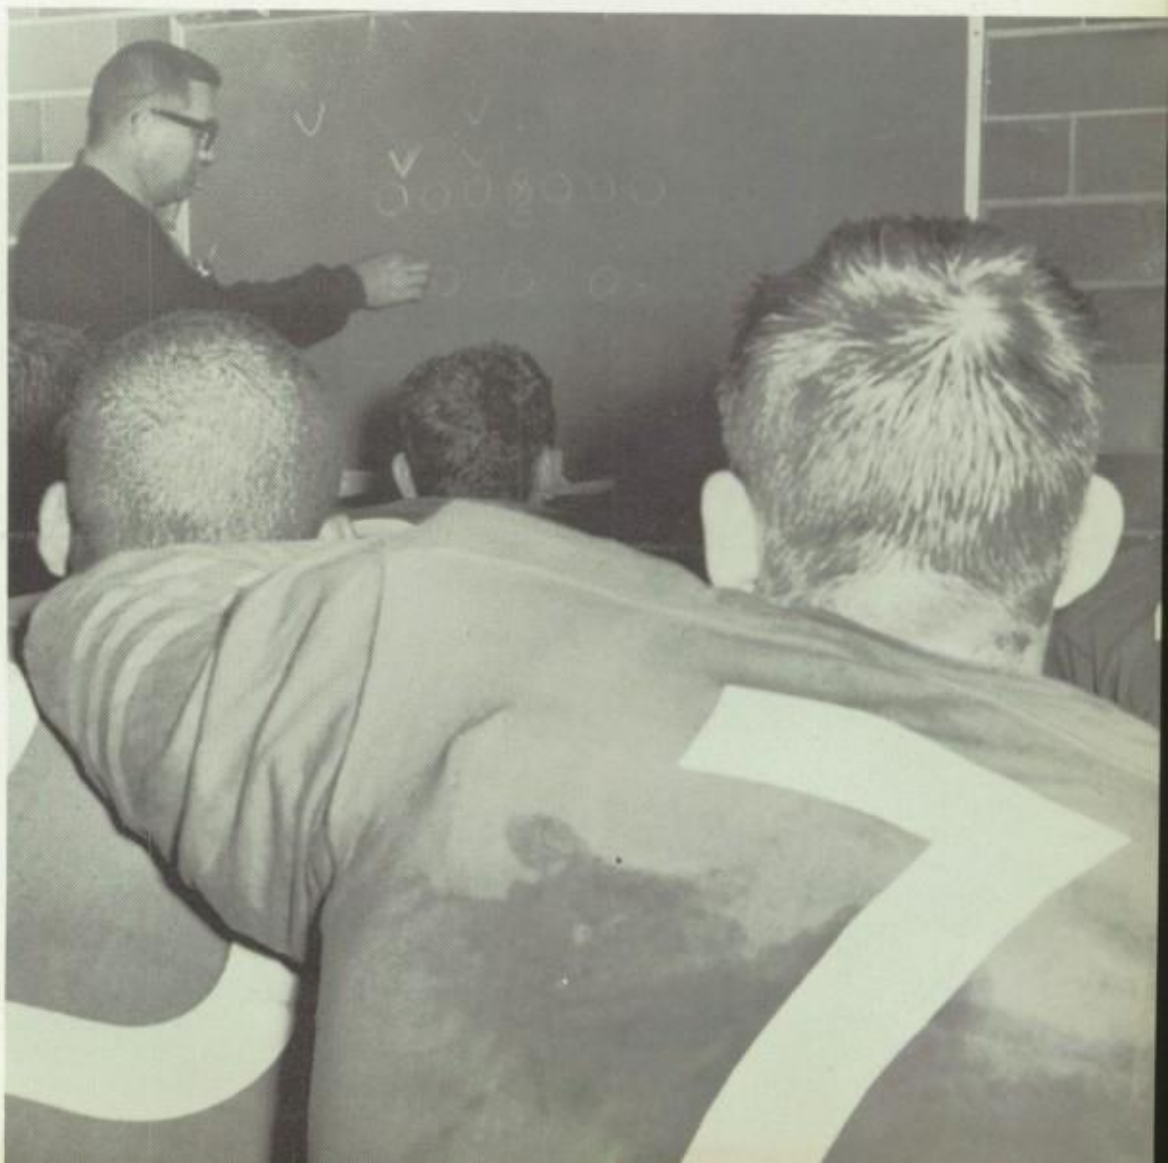
Mental attitude was at a low ebb in the LaPorte ball game as a very fine Slicer team, which later went on to defeat Riley, stymied the Bears' offense and effectively penetrated their defense. This was the only game in which the Bears failed to score during the entire season as they bowed 46-0.

Led by inspired seniors playing their last game for Central High School, the Bears rose to the occasion and downed Elkhart 20 to 12 in a well played game. This victory was certainly the high point of the season and eased the pain of a losing campaign.

Several starters will be lost through graduation, and this will provide a strong rebuilding challenge for Coach Szucs. There will be, however, ten returning lettermen including Dick Smith, Bruce Erhardt, Larry Szczechowski, Ray Nick, and Jim Wilder. There is also a fine group of prospects from the freshmen squad which should brighten the outlook for 1966.

Two team members were distinguished for their outstanding performances during the season. Larry Szczechowski was selected by the Associated Press for the Junior Honor Roll All State Team. Norman Martin was chosen as first team tackle on the all St. Joseph County team by the Mishawaka Times.

Trailing by several points, the team receives some half-time instructions.



Central's defense stops a LaPorte play at the line of scrimmage.

Hard-hitting line contact is shown here in the Elkhart game as Grzegorek hands off the pigskin.

SEALS TAKES CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

A very strong and well-balanced cross country team compiled an impressive record of 11 wins and 5 losses in 1965. This equalled the best mark ever recorded by the harriers in Central's history. One of the best efforts of the squad was a pair of victories over an excellent Adams team which went on to win the city championship.

Sophomore Bob Seals owned the best time for the two mile run and Junior Bob Kuehl was the number two man on the team. Seals captured the city championship while Kuehl finished third as Adams grabbed the city title. The Bears as a team placed third.

Captain Mike Jackson, a senior, was voted the Most Valuable Runner. Other seniors on the team were Steve Hart, Gerome Price, Dave Ponder and Al Banks. With Seals and Kuehl returning, Coach Schlundt is looking forward to a very good season next year.

The 1965 Central baseball team bettered their '64 record of 8-8, as they won the city championship for the second year in a row. Coach Newbold's squad finished with a 6-6 mark in conference play and an overall record of 11-8.

Riley and St. Joe blanked the Bears in their first two outings by scores of 6-0 and 3-0 respectively. The question of Central's batting strength was soon settled, however, with shutout victories over Adams and Elkhart. The Bruins completed the season with several fine pitching and fielding exhibitions culminating in the city tournament games at Bendix Park.

Catcher Mike Putnam turned in a fine performance in the city tournament and was presented with the Boland Award for his efforts. Putnam also received the Kiwanis Award. Junior Karl Simon was named the Most Valuable Player and senior Fred Snyder ably captained the team.

Seven returning varsity players gave Coach Newbold a strong nucleus with which to work in 1966. Among these boys were pitchers Tom Butler and Norm Martin, catcher Bob Voogd, infielders Ronnie Green and Dennis Grzegorek, and outfielders Rick Niezgodski and Karl Simon.

DAVIS, FULLER LEAD STATISTICS

The advent of the 1965-66 basketball season was highlighted by great aspirations on the part of many Central fans for a possible state championship. In the course of the regular season the power-packed basketball Bears rolled over 17 teams, downing some of the most formidable opponents the state had to offer. Central, however, bowed out of the state tournament at the regional finals with an overall 21-4 mark and a sectional championship under its belt. Previous to the regional at Elkhart, the Bruins had had no stiff competition in tournament play. In the first tilt of the Elkhart tourney, however, Coach Power's team battled a fine looking Warsaw squad. A basket by Kenny Bethel in the last two seconds of play pulled this game out of the fire and Central was victorious 78-77. In the night game the Michigan City Red Devils took advantage of the Bears' poor shooting and captured the regional title by a score of 79-72.

During the season the Bears earned statewide recognition by being rated the number one team in the state. Season games saw such powerhouses as Indianapolis Washington, Gary Roosevelt, East Chicago Washington, and Lebanon fall before the Central onslaught. In regular season play Wade Fuller pulled down 201 rebounds which was the most for any player on the team. Senior Leon Davis was the squad's leading scorer with 373 points.

One of the reasons for the great success of the basketball team was its effective use of the press defense. Time and again opponents were forced into error, thus providing the winning margin for the Bears.

One of the major problems of next year's team will be experience. Of the 12 boys on the 1965-66 varsity, only 3 will return this fall. This trio of Ken Bethel, Gene Chism, and Ron Banks will provide the nucleus around which Coach Powers will work next year.

HARD WORK, PRACTICE PAY OFF FOR TANKERS

Seniors Jerry Vancik, Pat Williams, and Paul Szynski provided valuable leadership and experience for the team.

As the 1965-66 swimming season approached, many do-it-yearself critics began to express their doubts as to the success of the Central tankmen. The squad had been substantially depleted by the loss of six seniors, leaving Coach Bob Saltz with a small core of about ten boys with which to work. As the season progressed, however, a combination of teamwork and some fine individual performances gave the squad a winning form that was to be surpassed only twice in dual competition. The Bears' two setbacks came at the hands of a strong Riley squad and John Adams, the eventual state champions.

Led by co-captains Pat Williams and Jerry Vancik, the swimmers downed such powerhouses as South Bend Washington, Valparaiso and Lafayette Jefferson. In the course of the season the Bears cracked three school records and junior Dennis Stites equalled the state mark of 22.3 seconds in the 50-yard freestyle event.

Under Coach Saltz, the Bears finished 3rd in the city and conference meets and took a 4th spot in the sectional. The finale of the campaign was the state tournament, which saw the Bruins take 7th as every Central participant placed in the stiff competition. Although seniors Pat Williams, Jerry Vancik, Loren Eck and Paul Szynski will be sorely missed, tanker fans can rest assured that our Bears will be no less potent next season.

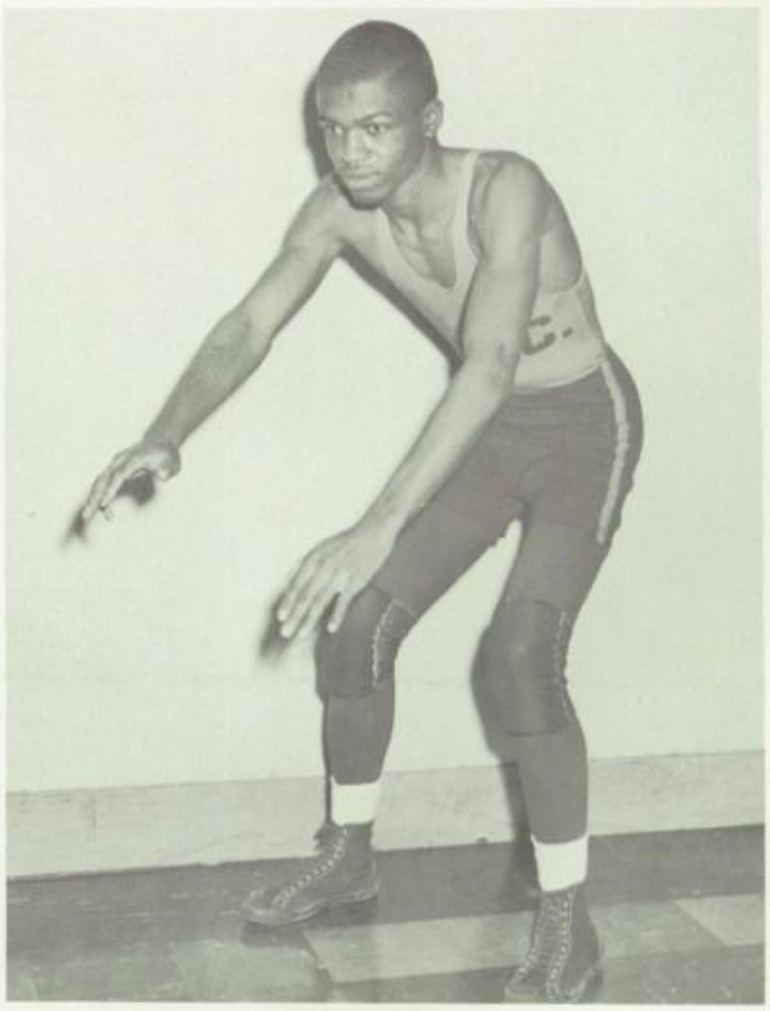
MATAFIN TAKES STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Led by co-captains Ken Hill and Tom Daniels and heavyweight Greg Matafin, the 1965-66 varsity grapplers won 11 of 12 season encounters. These three seniors compiled a tremendous overall, individual record of 57 wins, 6 losses and 2 ties. Under Coach John McNarney, Central's wrestlers soundly defeated every competitor, with the exception of South Bend John Adams.

George Smith led the team in falls and Tom Daniels compiled the most takedowns against his opponents. The city and sectional tourneys saw the Bears finish second only to Adams. The Bruins took a 3rd in the conference and a 7th in the regional as the campaign drew to an end.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding fetes of the season was Greg Matafin's victory in the state finals, which earned him the state championship in the heavyweight division. The success of the team was due, in large part, to the efforts of 5 seniors. These boys and their individual records were, Ken Hill, 16-3; Tom Daniels, 21-1-1; Sam Hill, 14-4-2; Jeff McIntyre, 15-7; and Greg Matafin, 20-2-1. Much will be expected from such stalwarts as Jim Wilder, Gene Early, Charles Burnett, and George Smith, as Coach McNarney rebuilds the team this fall.



Co-captain Tom Daniels led the team in take-downs and placed 2nd in the regional tournament.

TRACK TEAM CONTINUES SUCCESS RUN

Jim Wilder and Emerson Carr talk over the upcoming meet in the dressing room as they grease their legs.

When Jim Early left his post as Central's head track coach in 1962, many said that the task of filling his shoes and continuing his good record would be almost impossible. Today, four years and three seasons later, Coach Bill Gilkey has proven that he is worthy of the task. In his first three years Coach Gilkey has led the cindermen to an excellent overall record of 23 wins and 4 losses.

Led by seniors Mike Martin, Bob Harris, Mike Reed, Leon Miller, Ray Johnson and Charles McKnight, Central's track team won the Washington Invitational and defeated 7 of 8 season Opponents in 1965. In addition the tracksters took second place in the Valpo Relays and finished fourth in the Regional.

Mike Reed and Bob Harris served as co-captains for the squad, and senior sprinter Mike Martin was chosen as the Most Valuable Member of the team. Lettermen who returned in 1966 were Ron Banks, Ben Pittman, Jim Wilder, Gerome Price, Bob Seals, Richard Smith, Paul Szynski, and Ron Johnson.

Tait Grorud

Jim Hotop

Although their record might not indicate it, Central's 1965 tennis squad did show much improvement over the previous season. The team, composed of seniors Tait Grorud and Richard Mark, and juniors Jim Hotop, Jim Lane, and Werner Vernon, soundly defeated Riley, 7-0, for the only victory of their 3 week season. The Michigan City and Mishawaka matches, however, were very closely contested as the Central netters bowed 4-3 on both occasions. The squad finished with an overall 1-6 record and a similar conference mark. Hotop, Lane, and Vernon, along with B-teamers Mike Biber and Ed Kahal, will return this fall as Coach Powers tries to rebuild his team.

MUSIC FLOWS AND GENTLY BRINGS

The Central orchestra has a year of many activities. Many performances are included in the year from the beginning of North Central rehearsals and then to the finale at commencement. The annual spring and winter concerts were a result of many hours of extra time spent by the individual members of the orchestra and also by the conductor, Mr. Zeal Fisher. A stage orchestra consisting of a few of the members of both the orchestra and the band played at the various drama productions throughout the year. This music added to the completeness of effect of the play being produced. It was always an interesting and rewarding experience to listen to a performance by fellow classmates. The technique and skill of every person performing was admired and appreciated by every member of the audience listening to the accomplished performance.

Members of the Orchestra are, ROW 1: Emilita Perez de Lara, Jacqueline Stith, Joe Leatherman, Edward Kahal, Bart Jenkins, Peggy Orr, Catherine Hardy, ROW 2: Romeo Britten, Mike Fuzy, Joanna Campbell, Diatra White, Bonnie Fiedler, Calara McKnight, Sheila Vaz, Richard Ades, ROW 3: Carolyn Powell, Fred Steiner, Sherry Woods, Sharon Brame, Susan DeCroes, Erma Stephens, Beverly Knight, Linda Schlundt, Marianne DeCroes, Diane Barts, Joyce Newman, Linda Nemeth, Willie Jenkins, ROW 4: Brenda Stoner, Virginia Forrest, Linda Wise, ROW 5: Donn Ernsberger, Lana Paul, Cheryl Barts, Doug King, Jim Lane, Chuck Bestle.

Orchestra members are often talented enough to play more than one instrument. Fred Steiner, who plays the violin, displays his talent as a pianist to his fellow musicians, Peggy Orr, violist; Susan DeCroes, violinist; Mike Fuzy, violinist; Romeo Britton, violinist; and Carolyn Powell, violinist.

HAPPINESS TO EVERYONE

SPIRITED MUSIC ADDS

A familiar space sight to all Central football fans is the Band sitting in their special section.

The Central band begins its school year with numerous marching rehearsals during the late summer. These rehearsals help to prepare the band for its annual trip to Riverview in Chicago. Central students see the band first as a marching band. Pre-game and half-time activities are highlighted by the high stepping and different band formations. As the football season draws to a close the band begins to rehearse as a concert band. Basketball season starts and a pep band adds to the excitement at the pep assemblies and also at the games. The dance band adds to the enjoyment experienced by the audience at the different concerts.

THE SWORD" SO BRING ON THE NEWS

It was the job of the Interlude newspaper staff to capture history in the making and record it as news in the bi-weekly paper. Items that were pertinent to the members of the student body were listed along with an editorial on a current topic. Many times disgust and defeat were felt by the staff page editors when a page did not seem to balance right. But, you could see a smile on their faces as a page took shape, went to press, and was accepted with much interest by the student body. The newspaper was good experience for those students who were interested in journalism. They realized the hard work that had to go into each issue. They also found out what having a paper a success felt like in the end.

Progress through student government is obtained by the cooperation of all the students of Central. The student council worked on many projects this year to help improve CHS and make her students proud.

The student directory was printed and sold to the student body. This directory had advertising in it for the first time. The council spent time working on the Thanksgiving baskets. The baskets made it possible for all of the students to participate and make it successful. The food collected was distributed to families in South Bend. This project extended a happy Thanksgiving wish from the Central student body. A city-wide student council met for the second year with representatives from each high school in the city and a few surrounding high schools.

The officers of the 1965-66 Student Council are Mickey Tuesley, Audrey Hayes, Sandy Cohen, and Thom Hall. Through leadership, school activities ran smoothly.

DEMOCRACY REIGNS

One of the functions of the Student Council is the annual Thanksgiving Basket Drive. Sharon Fabian, Carolyn Powell, Jerry Vancik, Terry Stewart, Thom Hall, Audrey Hayes, Mickey Tuesley, Beth Parent, and Sandy Cohen, the Student Council Executive Board members, look over some of the various goods donated (by the individual members of the many homerooms in the school.)

Among the many duties of the Booster Club is the purchasing of trophies for the outstanding member of the different athletic teams.

Looking at the trophies are the officers Sue Ruethe, Terri Sue Goltz, Jim Reed, and Marianne DeCrees.

"I WILL KEEP FAITH"

Central made a first this year with a girl filling the office of President of the Booster Club. The success of projects which were started last year continued throughout this year. Football and basketball handbooks were published for the students, issued, and sold. The traditional loading of buses to transport the Central fans to away games was found the afternoon the game was to take place. The trophies that were awarded to the most valuable athletes were purchased again this year. Each booster of Central activities showed his support by purchasing a ribbon to wear during school and to all of the games he attended.

The members of the 1965-66 Booster Club Executive Board include (in the first row) Thom Hall, Marilyn Boyer, Sharon Fabian, (standing) Jim Reed, Marianne DeCroes, Sandy Cohen, Beth Johns, Bob Witt, Don Stratigos, (in the tree) Gregg Barth, Terri Sue Goltz, Sue Reuthe, and Mickey Tuesley.

ELECTION COMMITTEE INSURES HONESTY

With the voting booths in operation and the "Pioneer" and "United Students" campaigns in full swing, we tended to take for granted the valuable service of those who made it all possible. For our Election Committee, the mainstay of our student government, provided the preparations for each election we held throughout the school year. Not only did they nominate candidates for the Student Council race in the spring, but for the Booster Club and Class Officer elections as well. Once the candidates were named, the Election Committee organized the schedules and procedures for votiig. This year's group did a fine job of keeping elections running smoothly right down to the casting of the final vote. Mr. Catanzarite acted as the advisor to the twelve member committee.

The big homecoming weekend always begins with the traditional "Eagle-Bear Romp" bonfire. All of the girls who have been chosen to represent the Central senior girls on the football court begin to feel the tense nerves as the big weekend unfolds. After the bonfire is over the traditional parade is the next big activity on the agenda. The band begins to assemble, the court members find their corsages, and the convertibles begin to fill up as the parade through downtown starts. All of the girls beam with pride and radiance as the cars head toward School Field. Halftime finally comes and the noisy spectators become anxious listeners as the 1966 Football Queen, Sandy Cohen, is crowned.

Tradition is again in the air as the 1966 Basketball Court members are chosen. On the Thursday night prior to the Central-Washington basketball game a booster rally is held. Cheers are led by the cheerleaders and the student body has the chance to get rid of those pent-up emotions. The night of the big game arrives and for the court members the first half is the longest one that they will ever remember. Finally at halftime a hush fills the once noisy gymnasium and the name of the queen is announced. Honna Gatzka gasps as she realizes that hers is the name which has just been announced.

QUEEN IS –."

Members of the 1966 Basketball Queen's Court are Terri Sue Goltz, Tom Carlson, Becky Irvin, Bill Makielski, Donna Sandine, John Ludwick, Queen Honna Gatzka, Donn Ernsberger, Ginny Reed, Don Stratigos, Marsha Mason, Denny Grzegorek, Betty Ward, Mike Jackson, Barbara Dorsey, and Matthew Kingsberry.

Central's school spirit never dims because of our great cheerleaders. The Varsity Cheerleaders for the 1965-66 season are Donna Sandine; Ginny Reed; Dianne Whittaker; Ken Molinaro; The Central Bear; "Boots" Fuzy; Marsha Mason; and Sandy Cohen.

"FIGHT FOR HER COLORS–

Every high and low point of our football and basketball games brought a thunderous roar of emotion from our student body as we cheered and yelled along with the six familiar figures before us, Central's cheerleaders. With their skirts aswirl, their hands clapping, and their voices enthusiastically shouting their faith in our team, they impelled us to put our all into each cheer, chant, and song. When our team triumphed on the field or basketball court, they led us in victory cheers and the school song as our Bear clapped and bounced happily along. When the chips were down, our doubts were extinguished with our echoes of "Ziggy! Ziggy! Ziggy!"

With the help of the B-team cheerleaders, they continued their effort to bring about more interest, better attendance, and greater school spirit at the games. They exerted themselves to the utmost at each pep assembly and rally and truly proved themselves a credit to Miss Mathews' guidance and to all of CHS.

Come rain, sleet, snow, or hail, Central students are always there to back our team.

THE ORANGE AND THE BLUE"

Determination and enthusiasm are shown in the faces of Sandy Cohen, Marsha Mason, Ilona Fuzy, and Dianne Whittaker.

For those girls who found physical education classes much too short and wanted a chance to play more of their favorite sports, Team Sports Club was the answer. Sponsored by Miss Mathews, the club enjoyed many hours of supervised recreation after school in the girls' gymnasium. Activity focused on all types of team sports, but volleyball and basketball were played predominantly all year.

The Swim Club provided a means for many of Central's girls to improve their aqua skills and to learn the graceful strokes and techniques employed in synchronized swimming. This year's seniors acted as instructors as the girls met every Wednesday after school to practice. In April, the result of many hours of drilling and perfecting was demonstrated in a water ballet given before an audience of parents and fellow students.

The members of the Girl's Club Executive Board are Sandy Cohen, Publicity Chairman; Ann Hager, Business Manager; Betty Erhardt, Treasurer; Sue Reuthe, Secretary; Marilyn Boyer, Chairman; and Judy Harris, Business Manager.

Members of the Swim Club in the water are Mary Whitinger, Nancy Bennett, and Gail Fulnecky. Those instructing are Donna Sandine, Sue Reuthe, Marilyn Boyer, Marsha Mason and Marianne DeCroes.

GIRLS

The members of the Modern Dance Club are Ethel Malone, Charlotte Feldman, Terry Stewart, Christine Kaminski, and Valerie Johnson. The new sponsor for the 1965-66 year is Mrs. Fritz.

This year the Bowl-Mor played host each week to such teams as the Gutter Girls, the Alley Cats, and the Sloppy Joes — all part of Central's Bowling Club. Not only did the bowlers concentrate on making strikes, picking up spares, and working on other areas of individual game improvement, but they also competed as teams and learned much about bowling etiquette and sportsmanship from Miss Kruckel, the Bowling Club's sponsor.

Each member of the Modern Dance Club spent the year interpreting music in many different ways. They each experienced the enjoyment and self-satisfaction they received by expressing a certain mood or feeling with a special gesture. Mrs. Fritz helped the members to use the dance steps they knew to create a routine that displayed exactly their own feeling.

e members of the Bowling Club are

The Debate Club often must travel to other schools and towns in order to compete with them. Leaving on one of these trips are Paul Schreiner, Helmut Haefke, Susan DeCroes, Tom Strickler, Jim Bennett, Bruce Rector, Vince Phillips, and Ann Miller.

ANTICIPATION, PARTICIPATION,

Math plays a large part in the sciences. Attempting to solve a mathematical problem are J.E.T.S. members John Humnicky, Steve Rector, Dennis Smith, Anne Hagey, Mike Kozlowski, and Fred Elbel.

For all students who were mathematically inclined, enjoyed the sciences and mechanical drawing, and wanted to delve into the depths and secrets of research, JETS was their club. The club's four point purpose reverberated in the minds of each member. Interest was to be stimulated and a career in engineering and in allied fields was to be prepared for. The JETS, secondly, gave a preview of the engineering profession in acquaintance with men active in the field. Third, the club aided the student in discovering and appraising his own abilities, aptitude, and interest in fields of preparation for engineering. And last they obtained these goals by achieving active participation by all club members in all the club activities. The JETS kept very active throughout the year publishing the Contrails, a newspaper of club news and articles that was distributed at every meeting.

Chalk dust, paint spills, fractured minds, rattled brains, and many hours of diligent work were the makings of the beautiful posters and banners placed in the school this year. During the year we were reminded of upcoming events and things of attraction to CHS students by the banners designed by the Art Service Club. As we tramped, sped, and raced to class we took a moment out of the hustle and bustle of the crowd to notice what the latest banner looked like. Sometimes we took the work of the Art Service Club for granted, but then we visualized what it would be like to have a main hall with no banners to look at. Then we realized the hard work that went into the making of each one, and we appreciated the efforts of all.

Painting a poster for the Model United Nations Assembly are the officers of the Art Service Club: Larry Chrapliwy, president; Bill Molnar, sergeant at arms; Frances Herron, treasurer; Allen Redding, vice-president; and Sharon Fabian, secretary.

AND CREATION

The Future Teachers enjoy hours of learning experience by helping teachers at various schools and by planning several projects throughout the year. The officers for the 1965-66 season are Lois Combs, business manager; Kris Langell, historian; Lana Paul, secretary; Linda Compton, president; Priscilla Campbell, vice-president; Jerry Vancik, publicity chairman; and Lorraine Paul, treasurer.

Planning a trip to the Lobund Laboratory are the officers of the Future Doctors Club, Audrey Hayes, Secretary; Carol Krueger, President; and Beth Johns, Vice-President and Treasurer.

THROUGH ASSOCIATION WITH

Members of the Ushers Club look over their handsome jackets. The members are Malcolm Boney, Tom Lass, Richard Mark, Shirley School and Lucille Barnes.

With Central's busy activity schedule, the Central High School Ushers Club was constantly being called upon for service. A school play or musical production meant hundreds of parents and students to show to their seats, a large crowd to direct during intermission, and possibly a few troublemakers to contend with. This was the job of the Ushers Club, under the direction of Mr. Schlundt. The ushers were also present at games and school functions, when needed as guides or to insure good Centralite behavior by all.

The Hi-Y Club is an affiliate of the YMCA. The club has three goals that it sets for its members. They are good character, high ideals, and the broadening of friendship. In Hi-Y Club the members learn to judge things wisely. This will help them to prepare for the choosing of a vocation. The ideals of the club are ones that every student should remember.

The officers of the Hi-Y Club this year are Henry Martin, Vice President; Paul Schreiner, Secretary; Gregg Barth, President; and Matt Kingsberry, Treasurer.

OTHERS WE LEARN LEADERSHIP

Library Club Officers busy themselves by repairing damaged books. Seated are Bill Erdes, Treasurer; Marietta Spencer, Secretary; and Tonia Matney, Vice President. Observing the others are Angela Hawkins, Sergeant-at-Arms, and John Shambrey, President.

Pictured above are the leading characters in the Calderon drama "The Phantom Lady," an exciting cloak and dagger play. They are Walter Tribble, Terri Goltz, Tom Carlson and Ruth Luebke.

Mike Funston bids good-bye to his wife, Joan Inwood, as he leaves for the city in Barnstormers' The Lute Song.

INCREASED PROFESSIONALISM

Watching an exciting duel between James Montana and Tom Carlson are Barbara Wuthrich, Ruth Luebke, Montana, Steve Rector, Carlson, Terri Goltz, Catherine Crowe, Walter Tribble, and Alvin Macon.

Preparing for a midnight supper are Ruth Luebke, Barbara Wuthrich, Joan Inwood, Catherine Crowe, and Terri Goltz.

MAN'S HERMITS

UNDERCLASS

AS JUNIORS, WE BECOME UPPERCLASSMEN

Michael Basney, Paula Bennett, Ronald Bernhard, Kenneth Bethel, Mike Biber, Bonita Bigham, Joan Billger, Keith Bingham, Dorothy Bishop.

Carol Blacharski, Dennis Blount, Malcolm Boney, Mary Jane Borowski, Helene Britton, Romeo Britton, Leonard Brooks, Paul Brown, Vickie Brown.

Carolyn Buford, Sue Butler, Susan Butler, Bob Cabanaw, Michael Calbetzor, Diana Campbell, Larry Carver, Kathy Cashman, Linda Cassler.

Eugene Chism, Tom Chodzinski, Jackie Cholau, Larry Chraplivy, Scott Clark, Rosie Cobb, Jerry Coddens, Mark Cohan, Adrianna Colyvas.

WE GREET THE PRIVILEGE WITH PRIDE

Dave Coyle, Terrance Crawford, Dan Creager, Guy Cressy, Gail Czuk, Jim Dailey, Johnny Daniels, Lis Davis, Lois Davison.

Paula Dawning, Marianne DeCroes, Elaine DeFoe, Diane Deka, Mary Dillon, Wes Doi, Dale Donahue, Don Dosmann, James Douglass.

Josie Dye, Gene Early, Peggy Egan, Maria Ellenberger, Eric Ellett, Gayle Ellis, Doris Ellison, Betty Erhardt, Bruce Erhardt.

Dennis Ferguson, Pam Ferguson, Susan Fisher, Gene Fitzgerald, James Fleming, Sharon Ford, Willie Foulks, Bob Frame, Dave Frank.

Jacki Franklin, Chris Frederick, Bob Freund, Michael Funston, Karen Anita Futrell, Karen Futreau, Mike Fuzy, Evelyn Gandy, Georgia Gandy.

Debbie Garges, Rick Garnitz, Jeff Gibney, Alma Gilbert, Velma Gilbert, Charlotte Gilfillen, Missy Glaes, Gary Goodrich, Leslie Green.

Sonny Greer, Vicki Guenther, Ruth Harman, Loretta Harmon, Bill Harris, Jeweline Harris, Lillie Harris, Keane Harvey, Patrick Hath.

Diana Hayden, Frances Herron, JoAnn Hildabridle, Beatrice Hill, Jim Horan, Mary Horan, Julius Horvath, Jim Hotop, Richard Hubbard.

Lynn Huff, Harold Hunt, Bart Jenkins, Ralph Jenkins, Joe Jennings, Beth Johns, Diana Lynn Johnsen, Booker Johnson, Linda Johnson.

WE HOLD OFFICES AND RUN FOR ELECTION

Sue Tarnacki takes a moment between classes to brighten the day of a sick friend by phoning her and telling her all the latest gossip.

Roland Klockow, Jim Klyszczyivski, Richard Knight, George Kotowski, Rebecca Kovacs, John Krych, Carol Kryszewski, Bob Kuehl, Norva Kuespert.

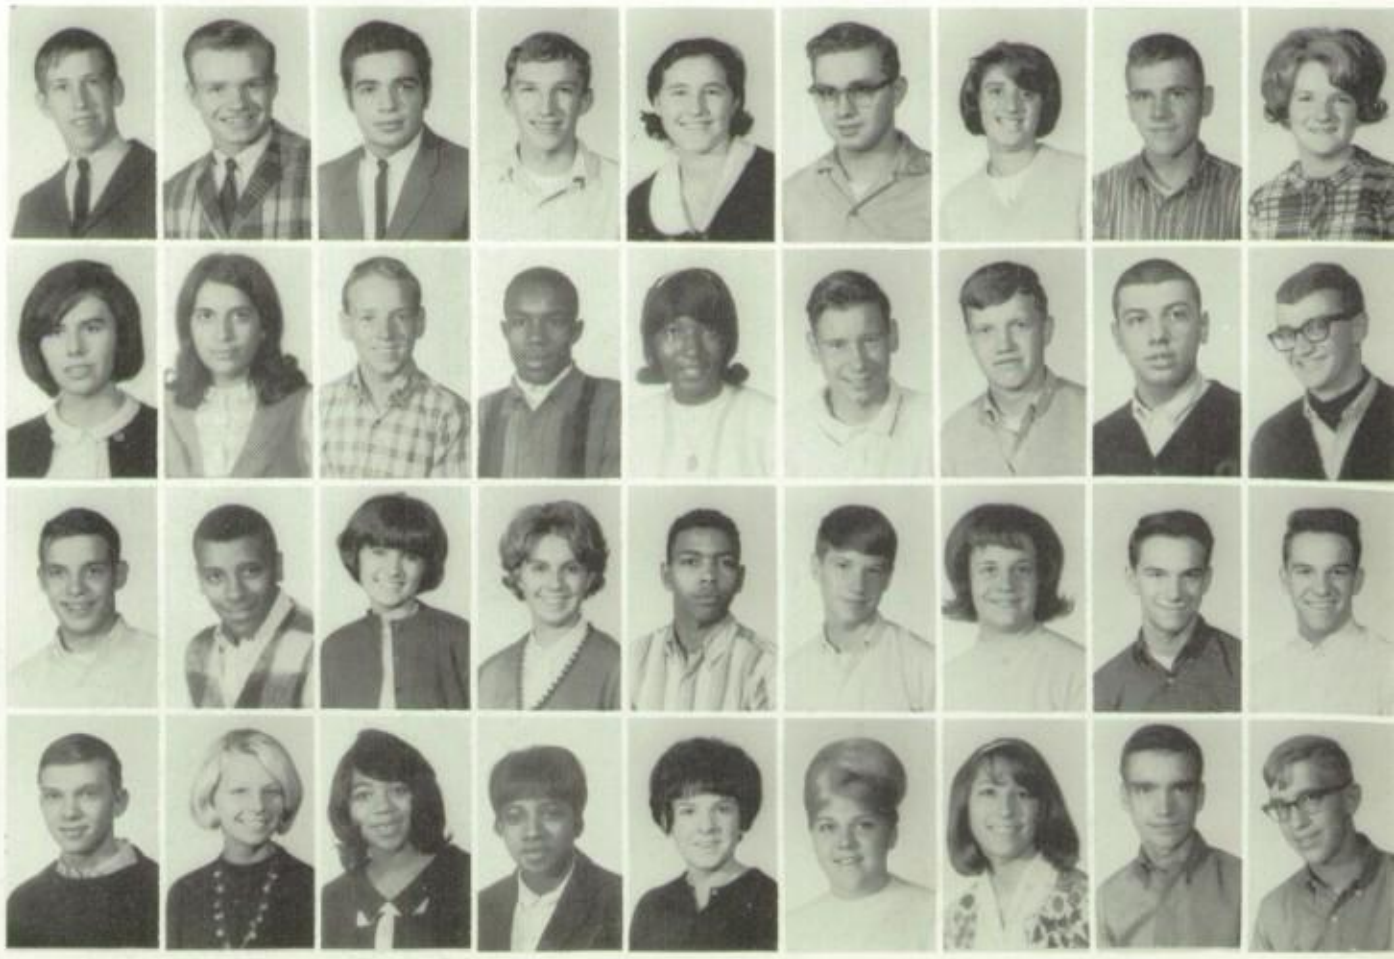
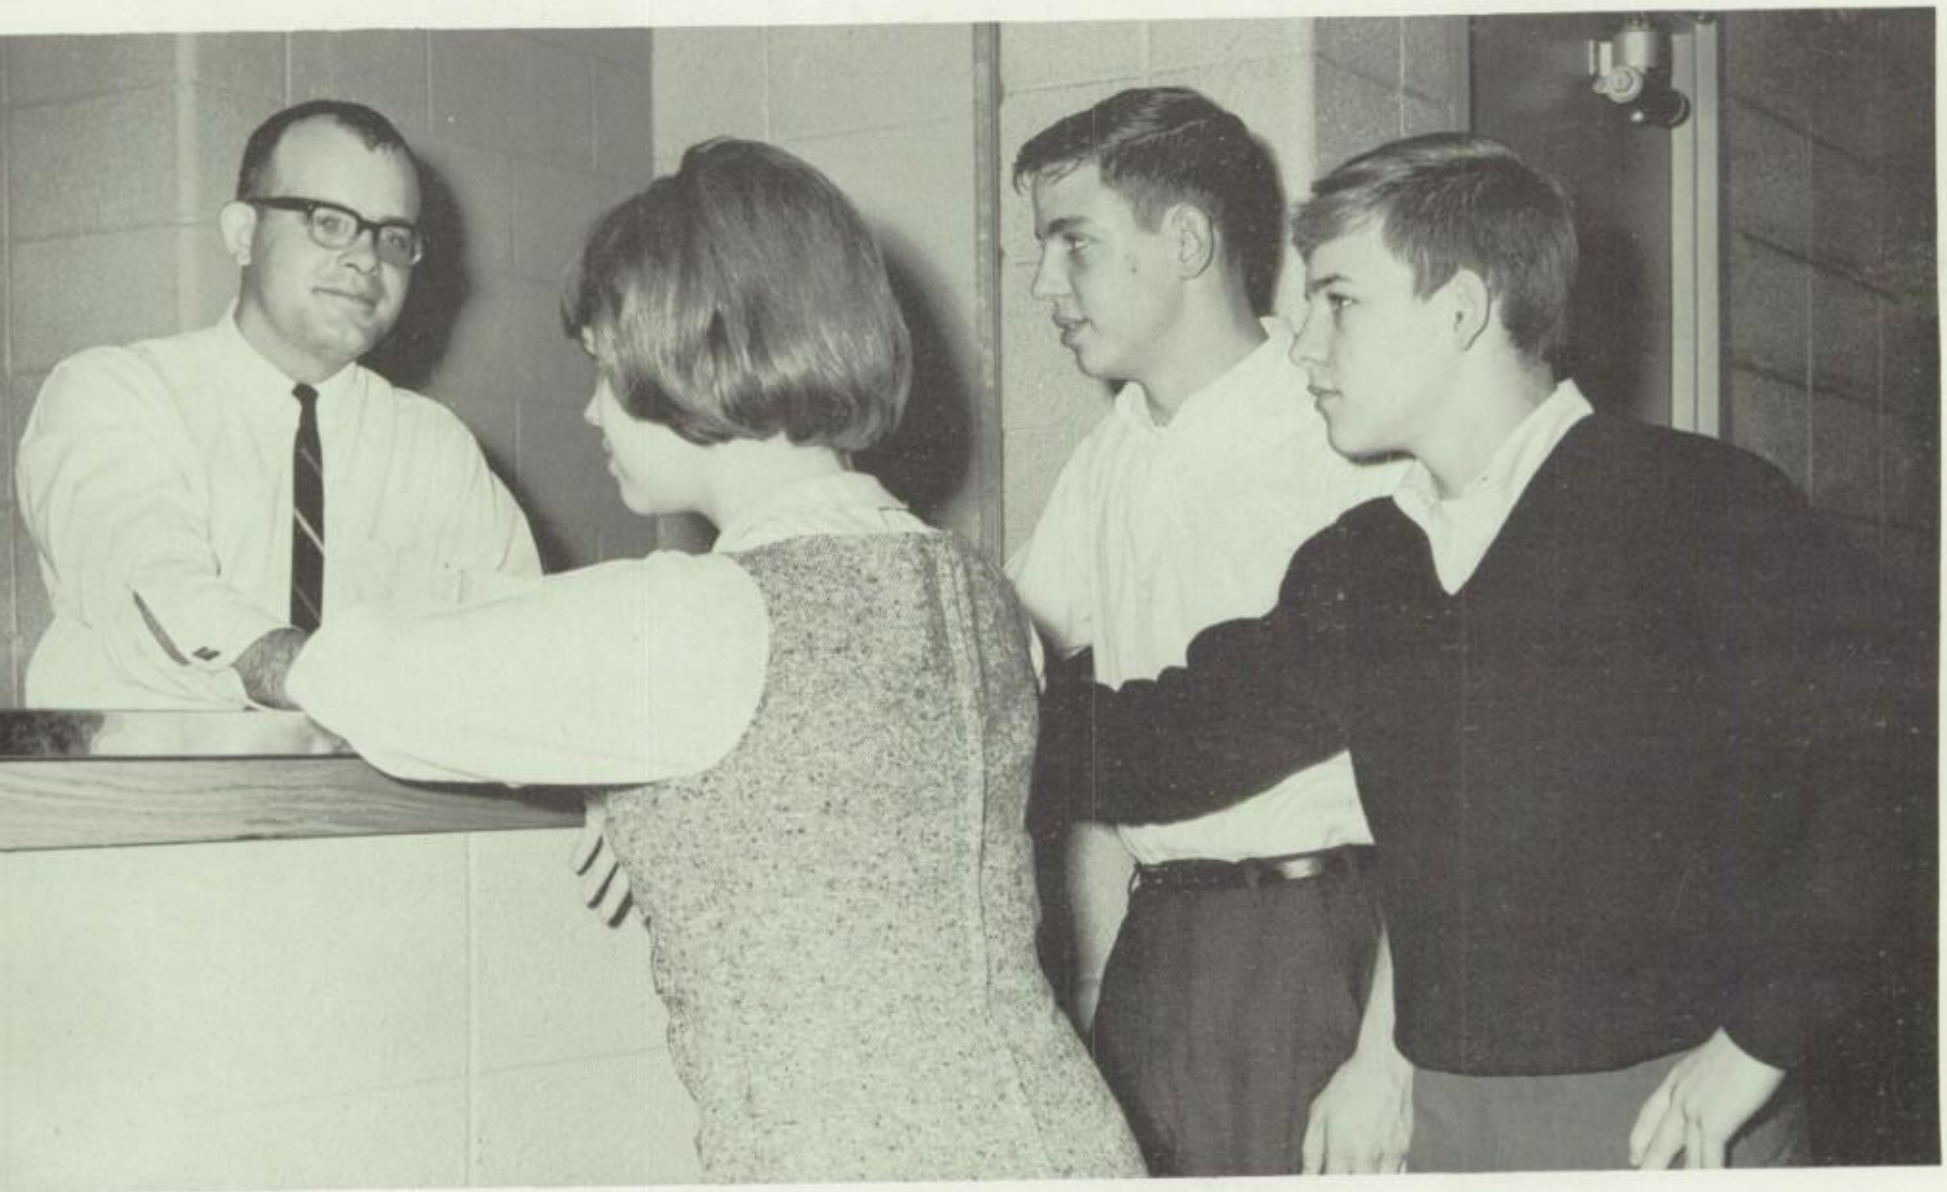
John Lute, Janet Lutes, Ruby Malone, Theresa Malone, Mary Markley, Susan Martinczak, Jackie Mattasits, John McInerny, Toby McIntosh.



VE STRUGGLE WITH CHEMISTRY AND THE P.S.A.T.



Cheering the team on to victory can certainly make one hungry and thirsty. Seen here are Sue Principe, Ray Lentych, and Paul Voorde buying a half-time snack.

Clara McKnight, Mike McKnight, Linda McMorris, Herman McNeill, LeDoris McNeill, Lucinda Melville, Leon Michalski, Candie Miller, Rita Miller.

Don Mills, Ray Moe, Johnny Moore, Mary Moore, Nancy Morgan, Jerry Munlin, Laurens Newsom, Ray Nick, Mary Niemier.

Antoinette Nixon, Barbara Nowak, John Nawrocki, Alma O'Bannon, Chris Oehler, Sharon Oliver, Mary Ann Palicki, Beth Parent, Jeff Pearson.

Madeleine Pemberton, Anita Perez, Eugene Phillips, Kathy Podsiadlo, Craig Rea, Steve Rector, Jim Reed, Sheila Reeder, Mary Regan.

WE DREAM OF THE PROM AND CLASS RINGS

John Remble, Tom Remble, Gerry Rider, Vince Ronay, Glenn Ross, Grady Ross, Rosamond Rouse, Chris Rybacki, Huston Sanders,

Gail Schermerhorn, Ed Scholl, Paul Schwenk, Sylvia Scott, Barbara Seifert, Darryl Shannon, Sherry Shelton, Beverly Siderits, Connie Sigrist, Cathy Szymanski, Sue Tarnacki, Margaret Tate, Lyn Thompson, Janet Thornburg, Sandy Toppel, Joe Trainor, Richard Traver, Terry Tridle,

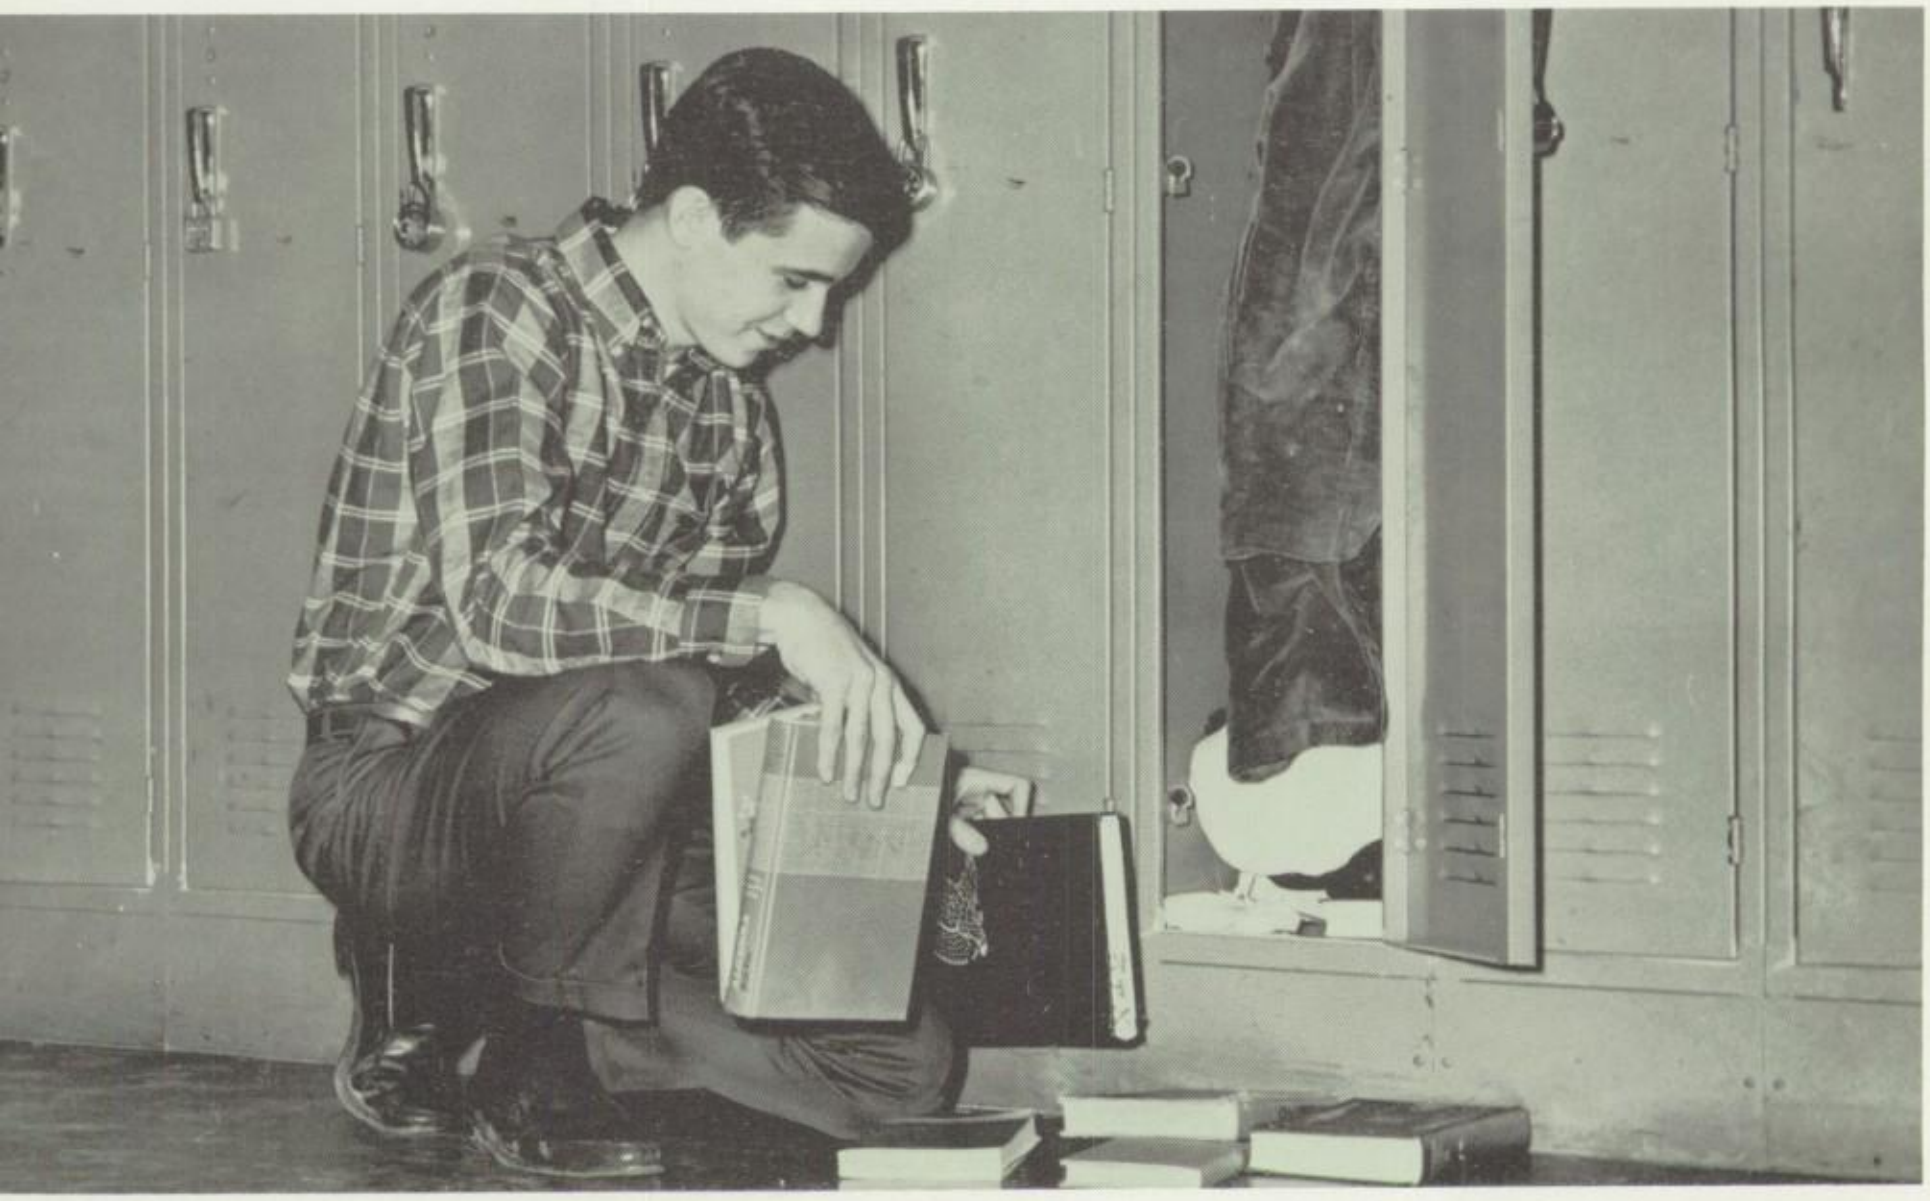
One of the long awaited moments in the life of a junior is when he finally receives his class ring. Dick Smith, Ellen Glaes, and Tom Remble seem to be just a little over anxious; they had to go down to the jewelry store to get an advance look.



Where do all the books come from? Lockers have a way of getting full and then overflowing at exactly the wrong time. Vince Ronay vows that this will never happen to him again.

Diane Tutorow, John Vandygriff, Frances Varro, Werner Vernon, Mary West, Nancy Vitali, Paul Voorde, Bettye Walker, Sharon Walker.

David Womer, Yep Ngee Woo, Bonnie Works, Jerry Wroblewcki, Linda Wylie, Linda Yoder, Stephanie Young, Linda Zehendner.

The Sophomore Class Officers: John Makris, Vice-president; Cindy Wiltfong, Treasurer; Bob Seals, President; and Dianne Whittaker, Secretary; discuss their plans for the year before presenting them to the executive board for their opinion and approval.

WE WISE FOOLS ARE CENTRAL'S SOPHOMORES

Rosemary Ades, Marilyn Aldridge, John Allen, Claude Anderson, Margaret Anderson, Chris Andrzejewski, Sandra Annable, Lareicie Atkins, Al Austin.

Bruce Austin, William Austin, Greg Balderas, Elaine Parrett, Cheryl Barts, Helen Batteast, Sherri Baumgartner, Penny Beatty, Leslie Bella.

Linda Biber, Gregory Bingham, Dave Blower, Angela Boney, Wallace Boocher, Sharon Braboy, Nat Brannan, Kathie Brodbeck, Karen Brom.

Candy Brucker, Katina Burgess, Mary Burnett, Glenette Butler, Bennie Butts, Joanna Campbell, Michaell Campbell, Terri Cephus, Gwen Cholaj

Paula Clark, Karen Clauson, Delos Coen, George Cole, Carolyn Combs, Jim Conlee, Brenda Coons, Carol Cosby, Steve Coyle.

WE WERE GUIDED; NOW WE HELP GUIDE

Marcee Crawford, Caty Crowe, John Daniels, David Daron, Douglas Daron, John Davies, Henry Davis, Mary DeVlieger, Tom Dhaene.

Tim Donahue, Patricia Dosmann, Tim Egan, Margaret Erhardt, Paula Fannin, Bruce Farling, Alan Fiedler, Rebecca Fischer, Janet Fitterling.

Eric Ford, Jon Forrer, Tom Forrer, Eugene Forsythe, Alfred Freeman, Jeff Frepan, Craig Fritz, Gloria Gaines, Becky Gorrell.

Don Grabarek, Robert Greene, Ed Greer, James Griffin, Janice Griffin, Barbara Gudim, Ann Hager, Patricia Hall, Joe Hambidge.

Don Hans, Michael Hardy, Theresa Harmon, Margaret Harris, Sandra Harrison, Joe Hawkins, Nancy Hayden, Norma Heidrich, Beverly Henderson.

Dennis Henderson, Sandra Henry, Brenda Hicks, Melvin Hicks, Joe Hill, Loretta Hill, Ray Hill, Sharon Hodges, Doris Holmberg.

Patt Horvath, Claudia Huff, Leighton Hull, John Humnicky, Cheryl Hunt, Joan Inwood, Willie Jackson, Martha James, Terry James.

Jacqueline Szczypski, Mark Szymanski, Vera Terrell, Mary Thomas, Allen Thornburg, Jenna Thrasher, Mike Tidwell, Bob Town, Allen Troop.

The auditorium serves various purposes for each person. It is first, and most important, a place to hold assemblies. It serves as a study hall and gossip corner before school and during the lunch hours. The auditorium is also the meeting place of many dating couples. Here they can continue an interrupted quarrel, plan the coming weekend, study, or just talk. At the moment, Ann Hager and Denny Walsh seem to be putting their minds together over an assignment.

WE ANTICIPATE OUR LAST TWO YEARS

Eric Tudor, David Tutorow, Dennis Umbaugh, Carol Van DeGenahte, Steve Varro, Mike Waite, Brenda Wallace, Dennis Walsh, Felicia Faye Wands.

Ann Ward, Eddie Ward, Ella Ward, Linda Warren, Anthony Weaver, James Weisel, Suzanne Wert, Ella White, Janet White.

Jeanette White, Joyce White, Karen White, Dianne Whittaker, Alydia Williams, Gregg Williams, Jim Williams, Barb Wilson, Rebecca Wilson.

Cindy Wiltfong, Nancy Wingett, Marjorie Witz, John Woodard, Barbara Wuthrich, Dorothy Young, Ann Zapf, Reedil Zehendner, Pete Zink.

One of the newest features of our bookstore is a section displaying some of the best and most recent paperback books. Seen here are Bruce Rector and Sharon Johnson deciding just which books to buy.

The Freshman Class Officers: Tom Strickler, President; Sharon Banks, Secretary; Susan DeCroes, Vice-president; and Rose Fuzy, Treasurer; seem to be good friends as well as strong leaders.

AS GREEN FRESHMEN, WE LOOK AND LEARN

Tom Ainlay, Nona Alexander, Joan Alspaugh, Margaret Anderson, Robert Anderson, Sue Anderson, Arthur Aragon, Pam Arnold, Bill Aslin.

where does most of that sales dollar go?

When you spend a buck in a drive-in, how much of it ends up as a profit in the owner's pocket? Much less than you might think. Whether it's a drive-in or a huge industry, only a few cents of every sales dollar is retained. From this dollar must be paid employees' wages and benefits. This amounts to about 27 cents. State, local and federal taxes take approximately another 25 cents. Part of it goes to those who supply the business with supplies and services, and financial institutions must be paid for borrowed capital for operation and expansion.

No, the business dollar isn't all profit! The 500 leading U.S. corporations retain only six cents of every dollar as profit on sales.

I&M operates in much the same manner as other industries. We too provide a large share of each sales dollar for salaries and employee benefits. We pay large state, federal and local tax bills. And, we also plow a share of every dollar back into a constant program of improvement — improvement designed to provide better electric service to our customers at the lowest possible rate.

As we pause to reflect on the happenings of the school year now behind us, we discover that each class, each activity, and each moment spent within Central's walls has become a part of us. We attended classes every day to learn; yet some of our most valuable lessons were not learned by reading textbooks in classrooms. This was also a year of growing up and discovering the world about us. We gained something that taught us life's challenges, disappointments, responsibilities, and problems. Our numerous obligations to our school, our teachers, our friends, and ourselves molded every one of us into a responsible youth capable of good judgment and dependable for mature behavior. From those about us, we learned to set our own standards of morality and to respect those already deemed acceptable by society. This was a year of change for us, of ambitions, of attitudes, of interests, and of outlooks on life. Our individuality became more apparent, for each of us saw something different in his own "Kaleidoscope of Knowledge."

Our feelings have changed throughout the year and the emotions we experience at the end are different:

individuality

confidence in the future
